

PRESS RELEASE
INVESTMENT OF JGR CAPITAL IN AUTOLOGY
PORTUGUESE INVESTMENT COMPANY SEES OPPORTUNITY IN UK PROVIDER
OF E-LEARNING AND ON LINE TEXTBOOKS

London, June 10th 2009

JGR Capital Ltd ("JGR Capital") has successfully acquired in a minority stake in Autology World Ltd ("Autology"), a leading e-learning supplier to schools, via a capital increase.

Autology's vision is to implement its unique personalised learning tool internationally by working with a portfolio of top quality schools with an absolute commitment to Teaching Excellence

The newly raised capital will be used to accelerate the sales effort of the first real time learning environment employing 'Push' technologies to meet the learning needs of 11-18 year olds, both in the UK and internationally, as well as expanding the product range.

Speaking after signing the agreement, Mr Julian Harley, Autology's Executive Chairman, said "JGR Capital has completed this investment in Autology based on our company's successful track record and the potential of the Autology product. This investment is a significant milestone and will support us in our international and headcount expansion".

"JGR is investing in Autology primarily due to the value creation opportunities in this space. As a result of an extensive due diligence process, we found Autology to be the premier player in this e-learning space and we are excited to make this investment in a fast moving and dynamic company." said José Rosa, JGR Capital's Executive Chairman.

About Autology

Autology supplies an advanced e-learning solution to schools. Autology's product is unique, utilising the globally successful, pattern matching search software, Autonomy, at its core. It delivers a combination of best of breed textbooks, free to air websites and schools' own resources in one searchable, focused internet safe environment. Autology spent 2 years developing its personalised e-learning tool for school and college students and launched it in 2008. The company currently has 35 user schools with over 25,000 students.

About JGR Capital

JGR capital is an independent investment firm, focused on financing dynamic companies in Western Europe. JGR Capital seeks to achieve superior returns by finding assets with substantial potential in our regional and sector focus areas, before they appear on the radar screen of mainstream players in terms of stage and/or initial investment size. Together with the teams that we back, we create value by opening global opportunities in terms of financing, growth, and exits.
